

NATIONAL OBSERVER

OCT 14 1968

Approved For Release 2004/12/15 : CIA-RDP75-00149R000700020034-9

Relaxing Agent: Rep. Mendel Rivers, South Carolina Democrat, is pushing a bill to permit agents of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to retire with pay after 10 years or, if their duty is unusually hazardous, after as few as five years. FBI agents on hazardous duty now get quick-retirement privileges, Mr. Rivers said. The CIA bill is pending before the House Armed Services Committee.